

Conclusions 300 Astrobiology course

Tanzania 2022

I would like to thank the Open University of Tanzania for their support in producing the publicity leaflet. The electronic flyer was distributed through social media and participants from across Tanzania were able to register for the Training. Some participants could not join because of network problems and some did not see the announcement also. Participants requested more such events to take place.

We include some comments by participants

- The remote observation session
- Astronomy has a lot to learn on
- I value the dedication and efforts of NASE tutors to give us very practical explanations.
